

The Central Coast Circuit Series Final... September 16, 2012.

The 2012 Central Coast Circuit Race #6, the 2012 Series Final event, is going to be contested on a new Race Route held on the brand new and extremely fresh roads of the East Garrison Benchmark Communities development in the former Ft. Ord, directly off of Reservation Road near the City of Marina.

This opportunity to compete on your Road Bike on the smooth as silk freshly paved roads of the new East Garrison development by Benchmark Communities is a huge privilege and should not be missed!

New Course: The Circuit Course for the September 16 event is a clockwise loop on completely closed roads that is approx. 1.8 miles in length. There are long straights combined with many turns, and the roads have gradual and moderate inclines that are sure to make for exciting Road Race action.

The final portion of the route varies from 4% uphill grade at the base- to 2% uphill grade as the finish line approaches and will guarantee exciting action when it matters most...

The course also features incredibly fresh, brand new pavement that is a true pleasure to race on!

There are also some very tight round-about turn sections on course giving the race route some distinct character. The race route is in a current development area, there is no trespassing in this area at all times, and the route is open only on race day! Please do not try and pre-ride this route! Security is onsite 24 hours during current construction. The area is posted no trespassing during construction of the new community at East Garrison, please respect that!
